MAN SENTENCED FOR MURDER OF TAXI DRIVER

A young man who pleaded guilty earlier this year in the murder of a Denver taxi driver has been given the maximum sentence possible under the guilty plea agreement.

Dasean Perry (dob: 08-10-96) pleaded guilty in September to second-degree murder (F2) and attempted aggravated robbery (F4) in connection with the murder of 49-year-old Darren Bloomquist. Bloomquist was driving a taxi on September 5, 2015, and was dispatched to the 20000 block of E. Mitchell Place. When he arrived at the location, Bloomquist was shot and killed during an attempted robbery.

Perry appeared in Denver District Court yesterday and was sentenced to 48 years in prison.
