MAN ACCUSED OF USING MOBILE APP TO MEET VICTIM

Denver District Attorney Mitch Morrissey has formally charged a man accused of using the mobile dating app Tinder to meet a woman whom he later sexually assaulted.

Brett Sisman (dob: 06-13-85) has been charged with sexual assault (F3).

Sisman met the victim through Tinder earlier this summer. They made arrangements to meet at a restaurant in Denver in June. The charge alleges that Sisman later took the victim to his home because she was not feeling well, and sexually assaulted her there.

Sisman has been released from custody on a $50,000 bond. He is scheduled to appear in Denver County Courtroom 2100 for his second advisement on August 11, 2016 at 1:30.
