MAN PLEADS GUILTY TO INVASION OF PRIVACY

A man charged last November with using his cell phone to take photos from underneath a woman's skirt during a Denver Bronco's game pleaded guilty last Friday.

Jacob Magee (dob: 11-24-1983) pleaded guilty as originally charged to one count of invasion of privacy for sexual gratification (F6). Under the terms of his plea, Magee can serve up to 60 days in Denver county jail, followed by probation. The judge will decide the exact length of jail time at sentencing.

On October 30, 2016, at Mile High Stadium during a Broncos game, Magee was confronted by a woman who observed him using his cell phone to take pictures up her skirt without consent. He fled the scene but was later identified and taken into custody.

Magee will be sentenced on July 10, 2017, at 8:30 a.m. in courtroom 5H.
